Dear Dr. Poppe:

I received both your letter and am now able to answer, as you have given me your address. I am very glad to hear you are happy and are settling down to the type of work you wanted to do. Have you written to Dr. Dunlop yet? I am sure he would be glad to hear from you.

As regards your two sons, the position is that an official from here will shortly visit the Home Office in London who knew about the case from the beginning. He has all the information on it and will do his best to get the matter settled. When he returns, I will write to you again and let you know what progress has been made. Until this interview has ~~been~~ taken place, and you have heard from us again, I do not think it advisable for you to take any further steps yourself. I may add that the whole matter is being treated as urgent.

I was very sorry to hear of the death of your wife, before you left for the US. I felt however, when I saw her last that she might not stand the strain of the journey well.

best
Mr. Kulbach sends his kind regards and/wishes.

Yours sincerely,

C.N. MacLeod /s/
